b) Play area:

- i) Regular inspection
- ii) To note that, following a site visit with the Jackson's, a compromise was reached in respect of the new planting: the silver birch would remain in situ, (but surrounded by grass) to round off the curve with the other trees. The newly dug bed would be returned to grass. A small inward curving extension would be allowed to the bed nearer the window. After this no further encroachment on the grass of the playground or playing field would be allowed. The Parish Council thanked the Jacksons for their contribution in mowing the play area and maintaining the planted beds for the benefit of children and families in the village.
